Summer Reading Celebration

Summer is a great time to sit back, relax and read for the simple pleasure of enjoying a good book. With that in mind, your English teachers, reading teachers, and school librarian invite you to share in their love of literature with some of their favorite middle school titles. We have created a recommended reading list for you to celebrate reading all summer long. The books on our list cover a range of genres and difficulty levels, and we hope that you'll find some stories here that you will really enjoy.

Please choose a few books from the list that might interest you and savor the time you spend reading them this summer! In addition, feel free to explore the library shelves and discover some titles of your own to relish. Make a list of the books you finish or fill in the chart on the back of this letter and share it with your ELA teacher in September so you can share your love of reading together.

Have fun this summer and happy reading!
